CERTIFIED SEED
1921 Season.

What is Certified Seed?

Certified seed is seed that has been inspected under the supervision of the Department of Agronomy, College of Agriculture, and which has qualified under the rules for seed certification. The source of seed, its purity, freedom from diseases and weeds, and general quality are considered. The object of certification is to secure pure seed true to name. Chance of volunteer crops, cross pollination, and mixing in the field are reduced to a minimum by stringent rules under which the grain must be grown. Growers of certified seed are furnished with certificates showing the purity of their fields. Ask to see these.

What Crops are Certified?

The Nebraska Number 60 and the Nebraska Number 6 winter wheats are improved selections from Standard Turkey Red winter wheat, both having continuously outyielded ordinary Turkey Red winter wheat over a number of years trial. Kanred wheat is the product of a single head selected in 1906 from a hard winter variety that had been introduced into United States from Russia by the United States Department of Agriculture. The yields of Nebraska Number 60, Number 6, and Kanred have been practically the same when grown side by side for several years at the Nebraska Experiment Station. All of these have consistently outyielded ordinary Turkey Red wheat. Kanred seems to be from one to five days earlier than ordinary Turkey Red wheat and is also more rust resistant. In milling qualities, there is probably but little difference in these wheats.

Nebraska Number 21 oats is a selection of white oats from the ordinary yellow Kherson variety. It has outyielded the ordinary Kherson oats about eight bushels per acre over a number of years tests. Its yield over the state has been very satisfactory. Rosen rye, a Michigan product, has been grown over this state for several seasons and has given excellent results. It has a heavier straw, larger head and Kernel and has given increased yields. Minnesota Number 184 barley is a six row bearded barley developed at the Minnesota Station that is particularly well adapted to Nebraska conditions.

Treat for Smut

It is strongly recommended that all seed be treated before seeding. Where there are no smut balls and the smutted infection seems to be very light, the seed can be successfully treated by sprinkling with a solution of one pint of formalin (formaldehyde 40%) in thirty-five gallons of water. It should then be covered and let stand six hours. However, where there is considerable smut it has been found that this treatment will not control all of the disease. In this case the following treatment is recommended. Run the seed thru a good fanning mill before treatment. This will remove many of the shriveled and light weight kernels, spore balls, many of the free smut spores, and dirt. Make up the solution as given above (one pint of formalin to thirty-five gallons of water). Put the seed in loosely filled burlap sacks, dip into the solution and soak for five minutes. Drain on slats over the barrels or tanks to prevent the wasting of the solution. Place the seed on a clean floor or canvas, and cover with sacks or canvas, for two hours. Dry by spreading in a thin layer and stirring occasionally with a rake or shovel.

How to Buy Certified Seed.

It is recommended that in buying all certified seed that it be bought in sacks. The loading of cars thru elevators and handling the seed in the bulk has not proven satisfactory and is not to be recommended. History of seed cards should be demanded of the seller, giving the past history and proof of certification of the seed.

Responsibility

No financial responsibility is assumed for the seed listed. Care has been taken to list the seed just as found. No person known to be unreliable or dishonest has been listed in this circular. Any purchaser securing certified seed that does not meet with his satisfaction should notify the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Nebr.

What Abbreviations Mean

These abbreviations are used in the list below. 'Under disease trace S means trace of stinking smut or bunt. Where there is more than a trace this is given in per cent. Under purity the following abbreviations are used:

Trace R - trace rye
Trace B W - trace beardless wheat
Trace B - trace barley
Trace R C - trace Red Chaff wheat

Where more than a trace is present, the field is not certified.

The following counties have certified seed as listed. The farmers may be written direct, or in some cases, it may be well to write the Agricultural Extension Agent whose name appears at the head of each county list. Additional lists may be secured from the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Nebraska.
